Health and Devotion

Diabetes and heart disease often go hand in hand, yet the relationship between them remains unclear. What is clear is that there are many complex factors. "People with diabetes often experience blood vessel changes leading to cardiovascular disease," "Vessel linings may become thicker, making blood flow more difficult." With diabetes there's a tendency for blood cells to clump, forming clots. A clot to the heart may cause a heart attack, while a clot to the brain may cause a stroke.

PROTECTING THE HEART Staving off cardiovascular disease consists of preventing further damage to heart and blood vessels. "The best prevention is keeping a sharp eye on cholesterol levels, blood pressure and glucose levels," Patients can get this support from their physician. These measures involve lifestyle changes including diet, exercise, stress management and smoking cessation; medications controlling blood sugar, blood pressure and cholesterol; and possibly daily aspirin to ward off clots.

ONE PATIENT'S EXPERIENCE In 1981, Bruce Arrow of Orlando, now 69, developed chronic pancreatitis (inflammation leading to permanent deterioration of the pancreas). He learned his badly damaged organ might not be able to produce enough insulin, which could lead to diabetes. Nine years later, Bruce developed the condition. "I didn't have any symptoms or need medication," Bruce remembers. But his health concerns were far from over. A competitive athlete, Bruce knew something was wrong when he couldn't run or play golf without experiencing shortness of breath. That's when he was diagnosed with coronary heart disease, 14 years after his diabetes diagnosis. "Several major arteries were blocked, and I needed coronary bypass surgery," Dr. George Palmer, MD repaired six arteries. "Seven months later, I skied in Utah and nine months later, I completed a race in Illinois," says Bruce, whose diabetes is under control with diet, medication and exercise.

WHAT CAN I DO? Get educated about diabetes and learn how to control it. Reach a healthy weight. Being overweight is a risk factor for heart attack and stroke. Get at least 30 minutes of physical activity daily. Exercising can help you lose weight and lower blood pressure.

Eat foods low in saturated fats, trans fats, cholesterol, salt and added sugars. Don't smoke. It's a major risk factor for heart attack and stroke.

Take medications as directed. Ask your doctor about taking daily aspirin. Ask family and friends to help you manage your diabetes. A little support goes a long way.

Devotional Thought: Come to Me for Life

This devotional is brought to you by Pacific Press® Publishing Association

It is possible to memorize a few important passages from the Scripture and yet overlook their most important truth. Religious leaders in Jesus' day became experts in what the Scriptures said. Tragically, in their lifelong quest for biblical knowledge, they missed the whole point of God's Word. Jesus said, "You search the Scriptures, for in them you think you have eternal life; and these are they which testify of Me. But you are not willing to come to Me that you may have life" (John 5:39, 40).

The purpose for reading the Bible is not just to gain more information. Nor is it just to learn more about Jesus. Rather, Jesus says that the reason we should study the Scriptures is to come to know Him personally.

Orange Cove Core Values: To Be a Mature Disciple...

1. Refresh: Be "Refreshed" by the baptism of the Holy Spirit moment by moment. "For John truly baptized with water, but you shall be baptized by the Holy Spirit not many days from now." Acts 1:5. Jesus dwells in the hearts of His Children through His Spirit. By asking Him, after receiving forgiveness, the Holy Spirit comes and lives in us—His holy temples.

2. Abide: Jesus said, "I am the Vine, you are the branches. He who abides in Me, and I in him, bears much fruit; for without Me, you can do nothing." John 15:5. It is through the Word that Christ abides in His followers. Spending time alone with God before the day starts in Bible study, prayer and meditation gives Divine power and strength through the Spirit to those who do it.

3. Share: The example of the early Christian Church in Acts 2 demonstrates how God intended for believers to meet together in church (large groups) and homes (small groups). Meeting together & sharing, ingrains the truth of God's Word and the teachings of Jesus in the believers' lives.

4. Give: God invites all His disciples to give of their time and their means to further His Kingdom. "Do not lay up for yourselves treasure on earth . . . lay up for yourselves treasure in heaven." Matt 6:19. Giving allows a disciple to participate in God's Holy Nature and neutralize the selfish tendencies within his or her sinful nature.

5. Mentor: The great controversy between good and evil is fierce and complex. God ordained believers to encourage, support and care for one another in close, "family-like," relationships. Every disciple should be mentored by a more mature, experienced disciple and should, in turn, mentor a less experienced younger disciple than themselves. This process solidifies the experience of each disciple.

André Van Heerden

January 30, 2016

Reflects the core values that Seventh-day Adventist are committed to:

- ⇒ The Open Bible: forms the base of the design and represents the Biblical foundation of our beliefs. It is portrayed in a fully opened position suggesting full acceptance of God's word as one reads, studies, and puts into practice.
- ⇒ The Cross: central to the Biblical message is the Cross which represents the gospel of salvation and is positioned in the center of the design to emphasize Christ's sacrifice, which is the central theme of our faith.
- ⇒ The Flame: the shape formed by three lines encircling an implied sphere. The lines represent the three angels of Revelation 14 circling the globe and our commission to take the gospel to the entire world. The overall shape forms a flame symbolic if the Holy Spirit, the messenger of Truth. The flame suggests a continued upward momentum symbolizing the resurrection and ascension to heaven at Christ's second coming, the ultimate focus of our faith.
